

The toolbox filled hardware and software of those developing online teaching materials varies by country. This panel presentation will provide an overview of numerous distance learning development tools from several countries and specialization areas. Software selection and choice of applications will be compared by the participants to determine which tool best enhances the online learning environment.